Disappointed Dogs will get their Day

Genoa's Open Air 'Barket' Rescheduled

Genoa's Open Air Market, or "Barket," originally scheduled for last Saturday, will be held this Saturday, July 31, from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. in the Municipal Parking Lot in Downtown Genoa.

"The heavy rain washed out the activities last weekend, but all vendors have been invited to return, and many have already said they will be able to come this Saturday", said Mim Evans, Genoa Main Street's executive director.

"In keeping with our canine theme, all dogs will receive free treats and fresh water. They will also get a free Frisbee-type flying disk while supplies last. Children will receive free coloring pages and there will be some surprises, too."

Many owners have submitted photos of their dogs to compete for prizes in a photo contest. Voting will be held at the market on Saturday. Prizes have been donated by Genoa Animal Hospital, Ledfoot's Pet Bakery and Pet Chef.

The Open Air Market will include several vendors selling dog-related items, as well as an assortment of fresh produce, crafts, antiques, flea market items and new products. Spaces are available and can be reserved by calling Genoa Main Street at 815 784-6961 or e-mail genoamainstreet@atcyber.net.

Genoa's Open Air Markets are sponsored by Kish Health Family and Specialty Care, Unlimited Performance Rehabilitation and Sports Medicine, National Bank & Trust Company, S&A Maintenance Services, Inc. and Waste Management.
